Formation mentoring is provided free of charge by FAST qualified pilots to encourage safety and standardization in formation flying. You are PIC of your aircraft at all times.

It is an accepted 'tradition' that a person flying out to breakfast or lunch as a passenger takes care of the cost of the pilot's meal. It is suggested that the same 'tradition' should apply to those who are generous enough to mentor you. Indeed another FAST group goes so far as to suggest that those mentoring a pilot should receive from that pilot “food and water (and possibly post-fermentation water!)”.
